This programme is designed to help students understand the TOEFL® Internet-based test and successfully prepare for it. By training for this test, students will be building the skills they need to open doors abroad for their future careers.

London is an ideal location for English-language training. Students will step out of the classroom and continue to be immersed in the language. It is one of the world’s foremost cultural cities, as well as offering a rich social scene for international students.

This programme takes place in the INSEEC London school, ideally located between Regent’s and Hyde Park, in the heart of Marylebone Village.
